

Maggie Grzelak is originally from Cincinnati, but has strong family ties to Chicago. Maggie has lived in Chicago for 9 years and is currently an Architectural Designer at WJW Architects, focusing on affordable and supportive housing in Chicago and the Midwest. Maggie joined the Renaissance Associate Board in April 2018 because she believes in the mission of Renaissance to combat the root causes of homelessness through healthcare, supportive services and equity.