

Johnny Pesenti is a lifelong Chicagoan who believes that the most important time is now, that the most important ones are who you are with. And that the most important thing is to do good, because for that purpose alone we are here.